Meet Franco...

Introducing Franco Cavaleri, BSc., Ph.D.c
President and Chief Science Officer

Franco Cavaleri is a highly experienced and knowledgeable researcher, with an undergrad major in Human Nutrition from the University of British Columbia and postgraduate doctoral study at the Faculty of Medicine's Experimental Medicine Program. He is an expert in nutraceutical pharmacology, specializing in the pathology of inflammation and inflammatory disease and is involved as a collaborator in international cancer and other related research.

As the founder and lead investigator at BIOLOGIC PHARMAMEDICAL RESEARCH + MANUFACTURING, Franco is committed to the research and development of nutrient- and nutraceutical-based technologies. He uses pharmaceutical or medical research models to help define how they interact and modulate cell signaling and behavior. His groundbreaking research has been published in numerous scientific journals, including those that are Pubmed accessible and is highly regarded in the biomedical field.

Franco is also a best-selling author of health, wellness, and fitness books, and a former IFBB Mr. North America bodybuilding champion. He has built three successful businesses in the Natural Health Product Industry from concept to successful merger and acquisition. His formulation and research work has led to Alive natural products awards and pharmacological discovery, resulting in patent-status technologies that are now licensed and distributed globally.

Join us in partnering with Franco and his team at BIOLOGIC PHARMAMEDICAL RESEARCH + MANUFACTURING to take your supplement product development to the next level.

FORMIDABLE NUTRACEUTICAL BREAKTHROUGHS FOR THE FUTURE...

BIOLOGIC'S mission is to revolutionize the nutraceutical industry by offering real drug research with botanicals and their constituents to demystify their biological activity. Franco Cavaleri, Chief Scientist and owner of BIOLOGIC, strives to provide consumers with access to nutraceutical advancements that go beyond basic formulations and copycat products.

By probing into proteomic and genomic research, Franco leads his team of researchers to decode the pharmacology of multi-constituent botanicals by mapping the pharmacology of each constituent to gain knowledge about how they deliver therapeutic results. This knowledge allows us to improve formulation and extraction protocols for natural products and dietary supplements, resulting in more precise pharmacology and greater efficacy.

BIOLOGIC is advancing nutraceutical and natural product efficacy using progressive allopathic drug research strategies. Their evidence-based knowledge is made available to the public and formulation professionals, empowering you to formulate with eyes open instead of blindly relying on thousands of years of speculation.

"Our commitment is to challenge the status quo and shift how 'Nutra' does business. We aim to be an intricate part of the narrative to offer consumers technical advancements and results they can trust and experience." says Franco.

Let us help you harness the power of our patented technologies that are backed by rigorous research. Franco and his team will personally work with you to formulate a customised product that incorporates these technologies as the principle drivers for effectiveness. And because we understand that you want a product that is UNIQUE, we can guide you to add other complementary ingredients to the mix, ensuring that your final product is one-of-a-kind.
